

GEN. LUARD, WHOSE WIFE WAS SLAIN, KILLS HIMSELF

British Officer Had Been Accused of the Murder by Letter Writers.

WATERINGBURY, England, Sept. 18.—Gen. Charles Edward Luard, retired, whose wife was mysteriously murdered near London, Aug. 24, committed suicide to-day by throwing himself in front of a railroad train. His body was found later close to a railroad crossing, not far from Wateringbury.

Gen. Luard had been a guest of Col. Charles Edward Ward, M. P., at Tesdon. He left the house early this morning and going directly to the railroad threw himself in front of an oncoming train. Col. Ward found a letter from Gen. Luard saying his body would be found under the train.

He explained that such awful accusations had been made against him that he could no longer stand the strain. The General had received letters accusing him with having murdered his wife. Mrs. Luard was killed at a few moments after her husband had left her to go to a nearby club. When he returned he found her dead. The tragic death of the General, who was the last person to see his wife alive and the first to find her body, has revived public interest in the murder mystery, which the police, thus far, have not been able to unravel.

BATTLESHIPS OFF ON VOYAGE OF 3,600 MILES TO MANILA

Fleet Leaves West Australia and Due at Philippines on Oct. 3.

ALBANY, West Australia, Sept. 18.—The American Atlantic fleet under the command of Admiral Sperry left here at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Manila, 3,600 miles away, where it is due to arrive Oct. 2 or 3. The flagship Connecticut did not leave with the other vessels, but she will depart at midnight and overtake the rest of the fleet tomorrow. She was delayed by coaling operations. The fleet is making nine knots an hour.

The delay of one day here—the vessels were scheduled to leave Sept. 17—has been occasioned by the unreliability of the chartered colliers, a circumstance which in war time might be attended with most serious results.

Rear-Admiral Sperry has despatched the following message to Alfred Dackin, the Premier of the Commonwealth, in reply to the communication sent by the Premier yesterday wishing the American visitors goodspeed on the conclusion of their voyage to home waters:

"I thank you most heartily for the cordial message sent in the name of the Government and people of the Commonwealth, and we warmly and respectfully reciprocate your good wishes. The public and private hospitality extended to us during our stay in Australia waters has created mutual and friendly sympathies and understandings which years of ordinary intercourse could not have brought about, and which must cement and make more enduring the cordial relations so happily existing between the American Republic and the Australian Commonwealth. Hearts with hearts we wish for the happy and prosperous development of your splendid Commonwealth."

LONG SENTENCES FOR TWO BURGLARS

John McManus Gets Seven Years and Also the Title of Habitual Criminal.

Judge Malone, in Part I. of General Sessions, had on his sentencing clothes to-day. To start off with, he gave John McManus, alias John Sweeney, seven years in Sing Sing for being caught with burglar's tools in his possession after having been convicted of a felony. McManus, who called himself a barkeeper and said his home was at No. 213 Bowery, has been to State's Prison three times and to the County Penitentiary once, always for housebreaking jobs. One morning not long ago Detective Reilly found him coming out of the hallway of the apartment-house at No. 8 West One Hundred and Second street, with a jimmy and a bunch of skeleton keys in his pockets. In passing sentence Judge Malone also adjudged McManus an habitual criminal, which makes it possible for the police to arrest him at any time on suspicion without a warrant. Ed Jones, a small coal black negro who came to New York a few months ago from Georgia, got a term of not less than nineteen and not more than twenty years, a remarkably severe sentence, considering that it was a first conviction for him. Jones, who said he lived at No. 322 East Twenty-second street, entered the hat store of Paul Sachs, in Greeley Square, on the afternoon of Aug. 13 and held up the proprietor. He fired one shot at a policeman, and then fled, menacing a pursuing crowd with his revolver until a policeman overtook him.

In passing sentence Judge Malone told Jones that New York could get along very well without his kind and then gave him the limit for his crime.

STEAMER RAMS SCOW.

Pathfinder Compelled to Return to Harbor With Bow Smashed.

While the steamer Pathfinder was bound out of the harbor for Port Tampa, last night, she ran into a mud scow and her starboard bow plates were so badly damaged that she was forced to return to her anchorage to-day. The Pathfinder had neither passengers nor cargo.
